Obituary

FROM THE EDITORIAL COMMITTEE

It is a metaphor for commitment, care and service, this momentous hour of the history of our college makes us proud. We are glad of the progress of SJC today- a precious seed has been proposed into a vital, virtuous tree. In keeping with the ethos of the Society of Jesus, the guiding force behind this institution and keeping in tune with the spirit and needs of the times we live in, the college aims at the holistic formation of students, a spirit of excellence and an abiding concern for others.

It gives us immense joy and satisfaction to finally introduce our very own college magazine "MANTHAN".

It provides a platform for every student to develop their learning skills. The main thrust of the college has been to achieve human excellence to shape the personality of pupils through a host of extracurricular and co-curricular activities, and instilling them with moral values. In fact, this is how they broaden their mental, psychological, and intellectual horizons. Thus, the College magazine reflects how the college has been able to live up to its aim, providing quality education to the students. St Joseph's college had its humble beginning in the year 2009. As you can scan through the pages, it will enlighten you with the important milestones that SJC, Hassan has achieved in these 13 years.

So, as you flip through this work pieced together by the joint effort of so many, do bear in mind that every sentence has been a product of hours of procrastination, brainstorming, multiple notices for article submissions and the frequently asked question. "When will the magazine be finalized and published?"

We, the committee members, express our deep sense of gratitude to the Principal, Dr. Daniel Fernandes S. J. For giving us an opportunity to bring out the magazine. We are also grateful to our Finance Officer, Rev. Fr. Bala Raju S.J. for his constant encouragement and support in our endeavor to bring out the magazine. We are also thankful to our colleagues for their cooperation. (Photo of the editorial committee).

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

As we emerge from the global pandemic, Higher Education continues to witness some interesting trends. While the pandemic saw learning go online, post the pandemic, hybrid learning has become a top priority in the way students would like to learn. As machines and algorithms come into play, the world of work is getting redefined thereby prompting educational institutions to introspect. As the industry academia gap continues to widen with changing technologies, higher education is committed to providing skill training for students to bridge the gap. With disciplines no longer remaining in silos, a multi-disciplinary approach has become prominent. At SJC, Hassan we understand not only the changing landscape of Higher Education but also the changing needs of our students and make sure that every student experiences the uniqueness of Jesuit Education.

The student experience at SJC is largely influenced by the objectives of Academic Excellence, Social Concern and Character Formation. All the activities of the institution are developed around these objectives and provide the students with a rich experience. Year after year, several staff members and students have conducted and participated in a plethora of meaningful events on this campus. This Magazine is an attempt to record the activities of the last 13 years.

St Joseph's College, Hassan was established in 2009. It had its humble beginning in the school campus and then in 2018 was moved to the new campus in Katihalli. Slowly but steadily the institution has grown to nurture several young men and women in this part of the state. This report is also a strong reminder of the selfless service of several people who toiled in this campus. I wish to acknowledge all the superiors, directors and the principals who have labored with faith and toil to bring SJC to what it is today. I place this report as a tribute to all these eminent personalities.

Jesuit education transcends academic mastery. It is value oriented and encourages realistic knowledge, of the world in which we live. Above all through such social activities, it prepares men and women for active life commitment. On this note, I offer to you the collated reports of past thirteen years is an attempt to capture the thirteen years of progress of this institution. My appreciation for Ms Jane Fathima Noronha, Sch Joyal D'Sa and the team for their efforts to put together the reports.

MUSIC; A THERAPY

Music is a vital part of different moments of human life. It spreads happiness and joy in a person's life. Music has great qualities of healing a person emotionally and mentally. Music is a form of meditation.

American musician Billy Joel once said. "It's an explosive expression of humanity. It's something we are all touched by. No matter what culture we're from, everyone loves music." Most of us would wholeheartedly agree with this statement, and it is this universal bond with music that has led researchers across the globe to investigate its therapeutic potential.

Researchers are finding that the health benefits of music may go beyond mental health, and as a result, some health experts are calling for music therapy to be more widely incorporated into health care settings.

It has the power to cure diseases such as anxiety, depression, insomnia, etc. Scientific evidence suggests that music can have a profound effect on individuals from helping improve the recovery of motor and cognitive function in stroke patients, reducing symptoms of depression in patients suffering from dementia, even helping patients undergoing surgery to experience less pain and heal faster.

On the other hand, it also acts as an energy booster when you need energy levels to be up like during exercising, cleaning or even giving a presentation, upbeat music can give you the lift you need.

Consider using music when you're getting ready in the morning as a way to get your day off on the right beat.

So the next time you put on your favorite track, have a little dance around safe in the knowledge that you are likely to be reaping some health benefits.

NEED FOR SPEED

Formula One was first defined in 1946 by the Commission Sportive International (CSI) of the FIA, forerunner of FISA, as the premier Single-

Seater racing category in worldwide motorsport to become effective in 1947.

A Formula One car is a single-seat, open-cockpit, open-wheel formula racing car with substantial front and rear wings, and an engine positioned behind the driver, intended to be used in competition at Formula One racing events.

Sticking an actual price tag on a current F1 car is difficult. An F1 team may spend $145.6 million (just adjusted for higher transportation costs plus inflation) in the 2022 season.

And the Top speed: 300km/h / 186mph approx. According to the SCA expert, with its power unit, the V6 turbocharged engine of a Formula 1 car can produce roughly 1050 horsepower. When this power is combined with the architecture and other characteristics of a Formula 1 car, you get a machine that can reach speeds around 400 km/h.

A Formula One car is an open-wheel, open-cockpit, single-seat racing car for the purpose of being used in Formula One

Can a normal person drive F1 car?

The answer is yes. As long as you're healthy and monitored, you can take the wheel of an F1 car.

Finally, there are Formula 1's VIP tickets, also known as the paddock club. Paddock club tickets cost around $6,000 for three day access, again depending on the track. Two day access is around $5,600 and Friday access is about $1,000.

GREEK MYTHOLOGY

Greek Mythology is the set of stories about the gods, goddesses, heroes and rituals of Ancient Greeks.

Greek Mythology was part of the religion in Ancient Greece. The most popular Greek Mythology figures include Greek Gods like Zeus, Poseidon & Apollo, Greek Goddesses like Aphrodite, Hera & Athena and Titans like Atlas.

Greek Mythology Helps Understand Human

Nature as we see one self going through set of emotions

Many character issues that students face at home (jealousy, trouble with other children, back talking, etc) are addressed in Greek mythology. When a student hears it in a story, it's easy for them to identify and emulate the behavior.

Greek Mythology helps people to learn about important values of life, such as family, friendship, and more. It also learns from a very early age about love, solidarity, help, the meaning of giving. People, heroes, gods, demigods, legends and even monsters star in the myths of the ancient Greeks.

Greek mythology has been used in nearly every form of popular culture. Many Greek myths have been adapted into modern novels, movies, TV shows and video games. The word

"Theater" is derived from the Greek word "theatron", meaning the seating section of outdoor arenas where people watched play.

INVICTUS

Pushing my limits to fit in this world
Never realized I'm out of this herd
Thoughts are filled with chaos
Hoping this day shall pass.
Finding my passion became a task
Moved myself into a bask
Teenage love transpired the trend
AH..., Not able to find a perfect friend.

Fame, Fashion handed me suffer
All the pain and humiliation made me tougher
Peace, modesty flies me till the tower
But sooner or later I'll reveal my power.

MY FAULT

It's my fault supposedly
It's my fault I rethink every single word I said
It's my fault that I always look for the hidden motive

It's my fault for shying away from any trust
I am the one who is supposed to be blamed
No one ruined, all you have to do is to count the scars on my back Tries the traits my tears that stain my face but you will never do that Because this world protects the disgusted monsters
the one who wraps themselves with glitters and glamour
Place a beautiful bow on top if themselves
The promises of love and kindness because this world condemns the shatteredness of human beings.
These monsters leave behind like a tail of stardust.

SHE'S A WOMEN, SHE'S A GODDESS

She's a woman she's a Goddess
Touch her soul, not just her body
She carried you for 9 months
She couldn't fit into any clothes
Her body covered with scars and rashes
But little your little kick amuses
No matter what she kept you safe in her womb
But deep inside that pain made her son.

She's a woman she's a Goddess
Touch her soul, not just her body
You married her; you were her utmost point of joy
If something had happened to you, she was the first to cry
You yelled at her when you were mad
She consoled you even if she was sad
You took her for granted for ever
But she cared about you like a mother
Your promises were fake
You could've fulfilled it for her sake.

She's a woman she's a Goddess
Touch her soul, not just her body
You pulled her hair
She felt it's not fair

She raised her voice
 Yet she thought she had no choice
 She was never loved and praised
 She felt the society is so biased.
 She's a woman she's a Goddess
 Touch her soul, not just her body
 In the male dominated society
 Living with people filled with cruelty
 She looked up into the sky
 Because she wanted to cry
 But her tears were drained and her love for him detained
 She never sustained
 She burnt herself in the house
 He married someone else with the same fake promises
 She's a woman she's a Goddess
 Touch her soul, not just her body.

BIRDS FLEW AWAY

Sitting on a tree united,
 watching people fight divided.
 Talking among each other,
 Why do people even bother?

They look the same,
 Then why do they fight in religious names?
 They call themselves supreme,
 They forget the meaning of human beings.
 They teach their kids to forget the past,
 but tell them not to mingle with children of other castes.

White, black, and brown they see different skin
 colours,
 but they forget it's the same red fluid flowing in the body.
 Money is the way to measure the value,
 In this capitalistic world; humanity flew.
 A Labrador gets food, bed and ease of breath,
 Then why does a street dog fast to death?

You lock birds in the cage,
 but they got no rights to rage.
 We see all the greedy things you do,
 and keep quiet as we got no power as you.
 The supreme beings take the note of everything
 you do,
 You have a chance to learn and co-exist as Mother Nature wants us to.

Or else it'll always be,
 We sitting on a tree united,
 Watching people fight divided.

SELFIE ADDICTION

Technological advancement has given us some new addiction disorders. The new disorders are computer addiction and internet addiction.

Many of today's generation smart phones are equipped with a high resolution camera; we call it a selfie camera. People are obsessed with posting selfie photographs on social networking sites.
 Further, they wait for the likes and comments of their friends and others. This complex addictive disorder is called Selfie Addiction Disorder.
 Everyone just loves clicking selfies everywhere possible.

There can be serious injuries or death while taking a selfie. There is a craze of taking photos while traveling, which can take their life in accidents by speeding vehicles. While at the tip of the mountain or a hill, when they try to take a selfie they could lose their life.

The solution is not to stop taking selfies and posting them online because that still leaves your desires unfulfilled. It's to fill those desires in other ways, so you no longer need anything from selfies and their importance diminishes.
 Selfie - Once you see the results, it becomes an addiction.

DIE FROM INSIDE

I've spent all my life in the room
Thinking if I would ever bloom
I've spent all my life alone
People told I look like a clown
I had no one to accompany
Because people told I was a bad -company
All I could do was pretend to be happy
But die from inside.

I was judged for my looks- fatty, nerdy, ugly
I became a stone because; all I ever felt was lonely
My feelings died
I couldn't help so I cried
I cursed the world
My blood boiled
Yet all I could do was pretend to be happy
But die from inside.
Nobody ever looked at me for what I was
My life was completely a chaos
Maybe it's gonna be alright
But I still have to fight
What if you had everything
But could do nothing
As of now
All I could do was pretend to be happy
But die from inside.

LEARNINGS IN TIMES OF COVID-19

Covid-19 turned the whole system upside down. Even the education sector was hit severely, which had no option but to go online. It was hard to imagine for me as a student how things could be online when all my studies to date were offline. Within a few inches of a smartphone, the whole sphere of learning was taking place. Let me now review my learning on how this pandemic affected and benefited my life as a student.

As the whole system had no option but to hold online classes. While I successfully adopted online education, I also faced a lot of hurdles and struggles to keep my present learning applicable for the future. I was not only lucky enough to be equipped with an excellent network but also apt resources for my studies. This made my learning much easier and smoother.

My journey into digital learning began as I enrolled in St. Joseph's College, Hassan. In the beginning, the thing seemed cosy, but as the days passed the software seemed a hard nut to crack, because it was nothing but a 'Digital Classroom'. I was gracious to have good faculty with whose support I could hold on to the basics. After a few weeks, this mode of learning seemed very effective as I was regular and attentive to all the classes.

Secondly, this pandemic phase gave me endless opportunities to dive into a lot of personal interests and leanings. I learnt new concepts which were not prescribed in my syllabus like Digital Marketing, GST, etc., I also ventured into a blog wherein I could showcase my talents. As a result, I was able to grow and excel amidst a lot of uncertainty.

The third point that I would like to make is about the 'anxiety' that every student carries individually. Mine was of whether the exams were offline or online or learning. Personally, for me, it was a feeling of disappointment as the classes went on, but exams were delayed. Due to this, I was unable to keep track of my studies and life in general.

I would like to conclude my learning experiences with a quote from Mahatma Gandhi, who once said, "Live as if you were to die tomorrow. Learn as if you were to live forever." Truly, my experiences are also that of the millions of other students who struggled, and also at the same time learnt a lot of lessons in this pandemic. May our leanings go beyond the classroom, textbook, mobile etc., to attain the greater knowledge that our world requires in this age.
