PRINCIPAL FOREWORD……

Principal's Message…

It is with a heart full of gratitude and a deep sense of pride that I present the Principal's Note for the academic year 2025–26. This year has been a remarkable journey of grace, growth, and achievement for St. Joseph's College, Hassan. As we reflect on our milestones, we remain anchored in the Jesuit ideal of forming individuals who are "competent, compassionate, and committed" leaders for society.
Our campus has been vibrant with the energy of 809 students across our BCom, BBA, BCA, and MCom programmes. We began our journey with IGNITORS 2025, an orientation that integrated our new students into the Josephite community, followed by Ignatian Week, themed "Flames of Creativity." A significant academic milestone this year was the publication of the textbook Indian Political Thought, released during our Graduation Day. This work underscores our faculty's commitment to not only imparting knowledge but actively creating it. We were also privileged to have Dr Alwyn Vincent D'Sa guide our 170 graduates as they transitioned into their professional lives.

St. Joseph's has become a landmark for excellence in extracurricular engagement. We successfully hosted ZEST 2025, a district-level fest attracting over 600 participants, and EXPLORICA 2026 — The Multiverse Odyssey, our state-level undergraduate fest. Our students proved their mettle beyond our walls as well, clinching the Overall Runners-up title in the cultural segment at the Aloysian Fest 2025 in Mangaluru.
In an era of rapid technological shift, we prioritised future-readiness. Through our AI Careers for Women initiative with Microsoft and SAP, 100 female students received intensive industry training. Additionally, 158 final-year students completed the Capacity Building Programme with Magic Bus India Foundation, gaining expertise in AI, Cybersecurity, and Web Development. Industrial visits to GRS Automobiles and the MYRA Cyber Security Centre further ensured our students are prepared for the global workforce. Our mission extends beyond the classroom. Our NSS unit conducted a social outreach immersion in Nelamangala, and our Red Cross Unit successfully organised a blood donation camp with 54 volunteers. Through the "Chinnara Kalarava" programme, we opened our doors to 50 local children, reaffirming our role as a gift to the local community. We also stood united in our national pride, celebrating Independence Day, Republic Day, and Kannada Rajyotsava with great fervour.
I wish to express my sincere thanks to our Superior, Fr. Leo Pereira SJ, the Governing Body, our Vice Principal, Mr Pradeep Kumar, and our dedicated faculty and staff. To my dear students: you are the living proof of our mission's success. The year 2025–26 will be remembered with pride, yet we move forward with the conviction that the best of SJC Hassan is always still to come.
May God bless us all.

Dr Maxim Dias S J

Staff Welfare

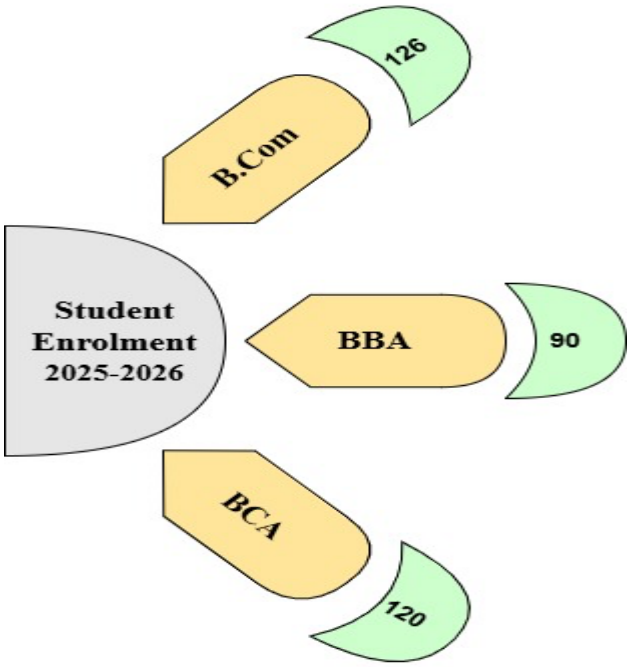

The institution is deeply committed to the long-term financial security and professional growth of its workforce, maintaining strict adherence to statutory welfare frameworks while encouraging academic excellence. All eligible staff members are enrolled in the contributory Provident Fund to ensure a stable financial foundation following their retirement, and regular employees are entitled to gratuity benefits upon superannuation or resignation in accordance with government regulations. To further bolster career progression, the organization provides structured incentives and promotions for faculty members who successfully complete their PhD, recognizing the value of advanced research in enhancing institutional standards. This is complemented by the availability of dedicated research grants, which empower staff to pursue innovative projects and contribute to their respective fields of study. Furthermore, the institution ensures immediate social security through the Employee State Insurance Act, providing eligible employees with comprehensive medical care and health-related benefits.

Recognizing the multifaceted needs of its staff, the organization offers extensive support systems for both family welfare and daily well-being. Employees benefit from significant academic support for their families, including fee concessions for up to two children enrolled in HJES institutions until they complete their graduation. This is supported by a compassionate leave policy that includes maternity leave, ensuring that staff members can balance their professional responsibilities with essential family milestones. To promote a healthy and productive work environment, a midday meal scheme is implemented for both faculty and students, ensuring access to nutritious meals on campus. The process for obtaining these benefits is handled with professional oversight, requiring internal scrutiny by institutional leadership followed by final management approval to ensure equitable distribution across the organization.

To provide a safety net during unforeseen personal crises and to foster a cohesive community, the institution offers practical financial relief alongside engagement opportunities. Confirmed employees can access interest-free salary advances to manage urgent needs, with repayment conveniently structured through monthly salary deductions overseen by the finance department. Beyond financial assistance, the institution organizes regular recreational and educational tours, providing faculty with opportunities for professional networking and mental rejuvenation. These initiatives are designed to build a strong institutional culture and promote a healthy work-life balance. The HJES Governing Body continues to provide oversight for all welfare policies, retaining the authority to review and modify these schemes to ensure they remain responsive to the evolving needs of the staff and the broader academic community.
